

The mission of the University of Georgia School of Law is:

- To educate a highly qualified professional who will be equipped with the appropriate knowledge, skills, responsibilities, and autonomy.
- To raise the awareness of students about the importance of the rule of law and democracy and the protection of human rights, which will facilitate the process of building the rule of law and the formation of civil society.

Quality Policy - By continuously improving the quality of activities, the organization will implement effective educational processes that will ensure the realization of the mission of the School of Law and will be in line with the expectations of stakeholders.

In order to implement quality policy, the organization has defined goals and strategic directions in the field of educational activities.

The goal of the Law School is to raise highly qualified, competitive specialists in the field of law, to establish a high standard of education, which is to ensure the efficiency of the educational process and the continuous development of educational programs in accordance with industry, labor market and legal requirements.

Tasks required to achieve the goals of the Law School:

- Continuous improvement of the efficiency and effectiveness of the quality management system.

The quality policy exists as documented information and is accessible, understood by the staff of the Law School and available to stakeholders as needed.

Approved

Director of the School of Law of the University of Georgia

Ms. _____

20/04/2019

Revised 30/04/2020

Revised 25/04/2021

Version: 01